NO. 38

The headquarters of P. T. Barnum's great show at Bridgeport, Conn., was destroyed by fire last Sunday. All the trained horses and many other animals were burned.

PRESIDENT AREBUNETHY, of Rutherford College, a true Temperance man, has organized a large body of boys, eighteen years old and under, in his college, called "Juvenile Heroes," obligated not to drink intoxicating liquors, swear, chew or smoke tobacco until they are twenty-one years old. They have regular weekly meetings, at which they read essays, declaim, and debate subjects calculated to strengthen them in the principles of temperance, purity and fidelity.—Union Signal.

TWO QUESTIONS.

Where, oh where, is The Gem, That sparkling little diadem That used to cast resplendent rays Ashore on path in other days?
Tell us, John Tom, in plaintive tone, That no longer its fate we know;
Tell us quickly, and tell us true, Where goes each week, what's our due?

.....The mountain feud is a far different thing from the occasional quarrel, and has no justification whatever.

The feud implies malice, and malice is what the law makes murder. The quarrel is the outburst of sudden indignation, and in different countries and at different times has had various characteristics in its manner of settlement. The mountain feud, as well as the most original, is fought with fists. As soon as weapons were invented they were used, and from that day to this every individual man has acknowledged an unwritten law which permits and even commands him to resist an insult.....

The affair is much to be regretted, as such an act, but no provision of law or condition of society will ever prevent such occurrences.

The above extracts are from an editorial in the Louisville Commercial, and show upon their face the prejudice that exists against the mountain people. They form part of an article apologizing for the murder committed at the blue grass capital of Lexington on Wednesday, Nov. 16th, 1887—the time that L. W.
Baldwin was shot to death by Thos.
M. Green—and that at a time when every Kentuckian, whatever his political predilections, should have held the best feelings for his fellow. It was the event of the moving of the statue of JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, a son of Kentucky second perhaps only to the immortal CLAY. Had the imposing ceremony referred to taken place in the mountains, our citizens would have behaved with a dignity becoming the occasion.
The writer of the above knows this as well as any one. But, that he may instill a deep prejudice in the minds of the people against our loved land, he perverts the truth and resorts to deep and inflammable prevarication to hide his illegible hatred. Such papers fawn at the feet of the mountain people when seeking favors for their section, and turn to stab us in the back with falsehood at every opportunity. Such falsity is contemptible in any journal of common decency, and why the Commercial should resort to such cowardice we can not comceive, unless it emanated from an imbalanced brain. HEN E. O'SULLIVAN being the only one on the staff that sheet with a brilliant head and putting his hair on the back of his neck, it looks as if he was at the burning of it. But be that as it may, murder in the blue grass is as much a crime as murder in the mountains. Aye, moreover, for there they have had better advantages of education and social training. The man who says it is not so is a LIAR, and we spell the word in capitals.

We acknowledge the receipt of the following unique invitation last week, and very much regret that we were inable to meet the fair hostess, partake of the contents hanging on "ye crane," and mingle with the social spirits of the occasion. This regret is deepened because we know the Lord of Grannard Lodge, Hon. JAMES H. McLELLAN, to be every kind a man. Indeed, our esteem for him has no bounds. So here's to Lord JAMIE, and if he's not Speaker of the next Kentucky House of Representatives, the blame will be upon him.

ROBERT TRACY AND MIKE HEARTY GOOD FRIENDS. Ye shall know that sundry choice spirits and common Frendes intend to make merry with me on Wednesday, ye 16th day of November, at about 9 minutes after 7 of ye Clock, to Celebrate Ye Hanging of Ye Crane. Ye are hereby bidden to find yourself in ye number of such duty friends—on pain of incurring our wrath and sure displeasure. And so I do commend me right lovingly unto you, being without felicitating.

Thy Friend and Servant,
GEORGE VIKTOR MORGAN McLELLAN, 1887, Grannard Lodge, 2 miles on ye Old Frankfort Highway.
P. S.—Ye shall glide homely fare, but a heavily welcome through. Ye grate and we men talk said. "Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith."

With the Charleston, Kentucky and Western railroad, and the extension of the Kentucky and South Atlantic, Mt.
Sterling would soon rival any town outside of Louisville.

The Cincinnati Enquirer quotes coal at twenty-five to twenty-seven cents and deplores the distress in store for the poor people of that city this winter. There is a remedy within the reach of those people. It is the building of the Cincinnati and Southern railroad through this section. No such thing as a coal famine would ever face the poor families of that metropolis, and Cincinnati owes it to herself to see that the road shall be built before another winter.

Since SAM BRETHERTON, of the Courier-Journal, has been appointed Revenue Agent, the management of that great paper is doubtless puzzled to find his successor for "In and About Kentucky." If so, we would modestly suggest that a proposition proffering a permanent position and good pay, directed to this office, might secure a fair-haired youth willing to tackle the problem.

We stop the press to announce that the Covington Commonwealth is one of the best weekly papers that finds its way to this office. Mr. CASEY, editor and owner, certainly gives his readers the worth of their money, for his argues catches all the good things to be found.

A distinction without a difference—Murder in the mountains is murder, murder in the blue grass is an unfortunate affair. Bah!

To every person who will send us $5 in

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS ARE DOING.
Compiled by County Correspondents, and Cut and Condensed from Our Contemporaries.

LEITCH COUNTY.

[Special Correspondence.]

UPPER TWIN, KY., Nov. 19.—W. E. Bryant, of Jackson, is going to teach a subscription school of three months at Cope's Branch. Beginning the first Monday in January. As Mr. Bryant is a nice young man and a good teacher, we would advise the people of that, and also of this vicinity to patronize him, and we will predict for them a successful school.

Last Saturday closed out Prof. Goe's singing school on War Creek, of which we have been a faithful attendant, and as soon as we were dismissed Uncle Billy Lawson very cordially invited all the class to go to his house that night and sing for him, which was accepted. Your humble servant's company with the singing and good natured Dr. J. H. Baker, of Wolfe county, went with the crowd. Soon after arriving we all partook of a very elegant repast fitted up for an epicure, after which we made the welkin ring with vocal music until a late hour. On Sunday morning we repaired to the Church house on White Oak and heard an excellent sermon from Rev. Jas. M. Little, of Gillmore, to a large crowd. After services we received an invitation for dinner from John Loveless and his wife (nee Miss Polly Little) our former acquaintance, where we spent the evening very pleasantly, returning next morning to school.

As we have never been called postulant, yet at a risk of the insinuation of being an interloper, we will offer the following scribble and await with trepidation the result.

The cold November days have come—The wind howls loud and shrill; We've bid farewell to the school-house That stands upon the hill.

Our past five months' acquaintance With some have been most dear;
At the thought of going to leave them We almost drop a tear.

Now we wish to make it known That the people of "Upper Twin"
Is as honest and kind hearted, As anywhere we've been.

Many thanks to Mrs. Crawford For her kindness when we was sick But we're bound to open bankruptcy With the friends of "Gillmore Creek." Soon too, will be glorious Xmas, When such good times are seen;
And we hope again to spend them In dear old Hazel Green.

With peace and good will to all men, We wish them success in this world.
And the surest way to get it is,
Subscribe for the HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

LEITCH COUNTY.

[Special Correspondence.]

WHITESBURG, KY., Nov. 14.—News items scarce.
Plenty of rain recently.
Circuit Court begins next Monday.
Typhoid fever is raging, and almost epidemic.
Malaria have cleaned up the county, and cases are scattering now.
John A. Craft, who has been confined recently, is convalescing.
A little boy, of David Holcomb's, died last Thursday of cholera infantum.
Corn husking is the order of the day among the farmers.

The Sand Lick Church (Baptist) meets on Little Cowan next Saturday and Sunday. Two members are to be immersed.
In concluding the article on Education begun in my last letter, it is my object to write the present administration "up," not "down." If these lines prompt any one to reclaim their "waywardness," this valuable space will not be wasted.

In 95 a greater number of applicants were refused than usual. Only one first class certificate was granted, and there were fifteen failures in twenty-eight applications. The academy was organized and competent teachers employed. Many of the teachers attended.
In '96 there were eight first class certificates granted, fifteen failures were recorded. A new Superintendent was appointed and examiners appointed. The superintendent announced that the reform had not been thorough enough, and urged that examination be more rigid.

After the first session this spirit of reform was not adhered to. More than forty applicants have been examined and nearly all given certificates. Second and third class certificates have been granted to parties not better qualified than the parties refused the first session. Some parties were refused even a third class at first, and since, have been given second-class certificates. Teachers, who attended the academy in '96 and merely passed for third class in '96, and without further preparation, were given second class certificates this year. One party, in '95, made an average of only thirty per cent., and without further preparation was given a certificate this year.
